Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

George Weyerhaeuser, redeemed from kidnapers for $200,000 by his frantic parents, will for a few weeks or months be a hero among his playmates at school. But the real national hero will be the G-man, or men, who pump his abductors full of lead on sight. The conditions warrant just such salutary action. For little George, out of bondage and the immediate menace of murder, is once again a potential pawn for any ambitious kidnaping gang. Only quick decisive action can discourage this and other kidnapings.

It is noteworthy that attempts of legislation in several states which would make the parents or relatives of kidnaped children accessory to the crime when they pay the ransome or try to pay, have failed. It needs only the putting of oneself in the place of the terrified parents to reveal the cruelty of such a measure. As a matter of fact those who pay are accessories to the crime of kidnaping. But no jury on earth would ever convict them. Fundamentally parents have the same right to rescue their children from a gang of murderers that they have from a burning house. Peace officers will have to do the best they can in running down the kidnapers, despite this handicap.

And now workers on relief in a Canadian camp have gone on a strike. They are calling for a march on Ottawa by all members of relief camps. It was only a few months ago that SERA workers at the high school went on strike. They were successful too. The worker who had been discharged, for not working and thereby caused his comrades to call a strike, was restored to his "job." As long as this spirit of independence prevails, it would hardly seem possible that relief labor carries with it the slightest sting of charity or even a modicum of embarrassment.

The trouble with independence and "rugged individuality" of this kind is that the patience of tax payers may sometime be axhausted. The American people as a people are generous. They do not intend that any person in this broad country shall starve. On the other hand, unemployed persons who are offered work, and reject it by going on strike because they do not like the conditions, or do not really care to work, should have the privilege of starving if they prefer it. After all this is a free country.

NRA has apparently come to stay, but on a different basis than that conditioned upon legislative enactment of Congress. Employers everywhere are rushing to the rescue. There can be no more jailings and finings for failure on the part of members of industry groups to observe a "law" but, as now appears, a great many groups are anxious to continue the NRA by voluntary agreement. The only question that may yet arise in this regard is the price fixing feature. It would seem as if old anti-trust laws would come into their own again, with the fall of the legal sctructure of NRA, and prevent price agreements.

C. E. Bosworth, veteran of the World War, in this issue of the Nugget takes exception to comment on the so-called "bonus" bill in this column a week ago. We are glad to publish his letter. There are two sides to every question in this country, thank God! In Germany, Italy and Russia there is only one side to any question. It is the difference between freedom and slavery. The Nugget is an open forum for the reasonable expression of opinion. It is not treason in the U. S. A. to disagree with the President of the United States, or with any lesser or humbler wight.

The swimmin' hole opens tomorrow. That is good news. We doubt if the Nugget today contains better news. It should have opened last Saturday, but better late than later. We are proud of the new park and the up-to-date pool, where young and old may disport themselves during the long summer days in clean water from the snowy Sierras. Eventually the park will be a recreation center for the people for miles around. It represents an act of municipal hospitality, costing relatively little, that will pay this city, indirectly, real dividends.

Miss Fay Genasci had Miss Betty Gordon of San Francisco as her guest over the week end.

COMPENSATION DUE NOW, SAYS WAR VETERAN

Mr. H. M. Leete,
Nevada City Nugget,
Nevada City, Calif.

My Dear Mr. Leete:—After reading your column "Thinking Out Loud" in the Nugget dated Monday, May 27, 1935, I feel that you are laboring under false impressions regarding the so-called soldiers bonus bill.

You speak of the president's message being so clear, so straightforward etc., that one wonders why the veterans do not accept, it as final and quit the strugle. And further on in your column you say all needy veterans are being cared for, also in 1945 they will receive the money due them.

First of all the president in his message said that the veterans that came out of the world war able bodied were not entitled any more consideration than the person who worked in the ship yards, munition plants, mines, etc. Do you in your own opinion believe this true? The individual that did this sort of work was paid high salaries, had a warm bed to go home to, his loved ones around him, his hot dinners, in fact more comforts than they had even known, due to the high salaries and wages that were paid on account of the war. These same factories, railroads, shipyards, and etc., that employed these men were receiving from the government a bonus for their production and for each individual man or woman working in their plants, while the soldier who was drafted or enlisted had to give up all these comforts, their loved ones, their good beds, and their good jobs to go to work for Uncle Sam for the large sum of one dollar a day, and mind you this was top pay for a private. Out of this one dollar a day they paid back for government insurance ---6.65 a month, bought liberty bonds, subscribed to mess funds so that they could get a little extra to eat once in a while, and if they were married, which by the way, was my own case, they made allotments of from five to fifteen dollas a month to help support their familes, after all this was deducted you can imagine what was left for them to spend on themselves. I paid $6.65 a month for government insurance from September 1917 to August 1923, later the policy was converted into a 20-year life and no credit received for amount paid on original policy. They above loss figured out for the different soldiers, about $5,000,000,000 for the period the United States was in this war, would almost pay the so-called bonus. I can plainly see that you are not a veteran. I would like to give you an idea of what the soldier had to do to earn his little old one dollar a day in this country and what he had to contend with when he went over seas.

In training camps on this side we got up in the morning at 6:30 went out on the drill grounds for thirty minutes of calesthenics, come back to breakfast, after breakfast at 8 o'clock went out on drill grounds and drilled until 11:30 at the rate of 50 minutes steady drill and ten minutes rest, at 11:30 we were recalled from the drill grounds, washed up for lunch and after lunch back on the drill grounds for steady drill until 4:30 then recall, wash up, stand retreat, and then if you did not have to go on guard you were through for the day, except that just about the time you got to sleep, fire call, or call to arms would blow and you were given two minutes to fall in, in company formation on your company street, regardless of whether this was 10:00 p. m. or 4 a. m.

This regular routine month in and month out was occasionally broken by an endurance hike, which happened about two days a week. You were started out with about 85 pounds on your back, the 85 pounds consisted of emergency rations, your pack, two blankets, tooth brush, comb, extra pair of shoes, underwear, in fact everything you owned along with your gun, two bandoliers of ammuition, side arms and belt full of ammunition, you were forced to hike 50 minutes and rest ten and once in a while we were forced to hike without any rest. That is only a little of what we had to contend with on this side and that was a paradise compared to what we had on the other side and I am only writing my own experiences and mine was nothing compared to what most of the boys on the other side went through.

I will try to give you a picture of army life in France if I may. First we were loaded on board of a boat, put down in the bottom, forced to sleep "that is, those who could sleep," in a four foot hammock, hung from the ceiling of the quarters which would be where you ate and lived on the trip, and eat rotten bully beef stew. Landed at Liverpool, hiked about ten miles with full packs, still about 85 pounds and felt 500, counted off like so much cattle, seven men at a time and put in tents to sleep on the ground. This for three nights, eat when you can which wasn't often. Then loaded aboard a train, ride all night to Winchester, hike several more miles, parked in a camp about four miles from Winchester where you got your first dose of cooteis. Eat twice a day, a stew made of beef that you could smell a mile, potatoes cooked with it, with skins, dirt and all, and that was good eating. From there to Southhampton loaded on a tender boat which is not much larger than our tug boats, forced to stand or sit if you could find room all night long in the cold across the English Channel to land next morning at LeHavre where we hiked still, with this 85 pound load on our backs, through the town, up on top of a hill and again counted off like so many sheep seven men to a tent where there was only room for about four, what we had to eat or however we got it. I do not remember. From there to our famous 40 and 8 cars, which means 40 men or eight horses, we traveled two days and two nights sleeping on the floor of these cars, head to foot exactly as sardines are packed in a can, that is the only way possible for 40 men to lie down on the floor of one of these cars. The corporal of each squad had a seven pound can of corned beef and this was divided amongst eight men with out famous sunshine biscuits, or hard tack, and a can of tomatoes to prevent scurvy. That was all we had to eat on the train, if you can call it such. We landed at our training area and being the first American troops in this town were billitted in barns, in attics, cow stables and any place that could be found, there being no provision made for us. The cooks did the best possible with canned corned beef and corned beef hash, and that was all we had for over a week, no fresh meat no good water, and no smoking tobacco or cigarettes. I have seen men go out looking for snipes as they are called just like we occassionally see the so-called bums doing in our larger cities, and mind you during all this time, a period of about a monthfi not a word from home, no message of any kind, and flu raging throughout the country. I have stood alongside of men that just collapsed from the flu—in ranks while drilling that would be dead next morning. The doctors doing all they could but no supplies. From here the men were sent all ove France as replacements put in with men they had never seen before, forced to sleep wherever they could with no shelter, in mud, in snow, in rain, going weeks with out even a bath, and the cooties just about eating them up and a hot meal practically unheard of. Still we are told that we deserve no more consideration than the man that served in the ship yards, munitions plants and etc.

We are made to believe we are a bunch of grafters because we are asking an adjusted compensation, "not a bonus" based on the lowest paid laborer of that time. The mail man, mail clerks, and all government employees worked no harder or did not have to go through the hardships that the soldier did, but were they asked to work for a dollar a day? Not a bit of it! You say, to use your own words, "In 1945 they will receive the money due them, or their relatives will receive it before that date in event of death." My God! Do we have to die to get what is due us? You evidently do not understand either that all those veterans that borrowed the first half of their adjusted service certificate have to pay 4½ percent compound interest on their loans. In my case I borrowed half which amounted to $787.50 at 4½ percent interest in 1945I will have less than $200 coming for the balance due. Now if this is what you and the general public would like to have us lose, we can assure you that we will still be good soldiers, and still good American citizens, bpt to me it does not seem quite fair. We were proud and honored at one time to wear the uniform of the U. S. Army or Navy or Marine Corps. Bpt it seems that we have all committed a crime of some kind by wearing it.

FOREST SERVICE HIRES 4 PLANES

The U. S. Forest Service headquarters in San Francisco have announced the award of contracts for airplane service in forest fire protection in California for the 1935 season to the Duck Air Service, Oakland; Schneider Air Service, Fresno; and Dan T. Moran Co., Monrovia. Three planes will be available on call for the fourteen national forests north of the Tehachapi, two from the Duck Service and one from the Schneider Service, and the four southern forests will be served by the Dan T. Moran Company.

For the first time, forest officers state, this year's contracts provide that all planes used in fire prevention must be equipped to handle Forest Service two-way ultra high-frequency radios for communication between aerial observers and fire camps. Planes are used by forest officers for scouting large fires and patrol when heavy smoke and fog interfere with the visibilit, of the national forest lookout system. Landing fields are now located in or near all of the national forests in California.

During the season of 1934 the flying time of four planes used in fire prevention work by the Forest Service was 222 hours without an accident. The forests of northern California used 169 hours, with 53 hours in the southern forests.

BOY SCOUT FUND DRIVE TO OPEN

The Nevada City Boy Scout council met Friday evening in the National Hotel. Following dinner there was a discussion of the ways and means of raising funds for the coming year for scouting purposes in this district.

It was decided to allot lists of former donors to committees of two each, and to thoroughly canvass Nevada City firms, organizations and individuals. Each scouter was asked to help in this endeavor. If insufficient money is raised by solicitation it was proposed that one or more public entertainments be given. In this connection John W. O'Neill offered his lawn at his residence on East Broad street for the purposes of a public card party.

It was stated also that the fire department has offered to donate the use of Armory Hall for a benefit dance for the scouts. Horace Curnow, chairman of the council, and Miles Coughlin, secretary, will prepare lists and give them to the various committeemen, very shortly.

Those attending the meeting were: John W. O'Neill, Harris Ricksecker, H. A. Curnow, Judge George L. Jones, Frank Finnegan, Miles Coughlin, O. E. Schiffner, Leland Smith, Tony Rore, and H. M. Leete.

CUP PRESENTED TO BANNER MT. POST V. F. W.

Nine members of Banner Mountain Post, V. F. W., of Nevada City motored to Auburn Sunday and attended a district meeting of the county council. Past National Commander Darrold DeCoe was an honored guest and spoke on veterans welfare. F. J. Boyle, district commander of the County Council, as presiding officer presented C. E. Bosworth, commander of Banner Mountain Post, with a beautiful cup for having secured the greatest increase in membership which was about 110 percent, of any post in the 8th district. This district comprises about ten posts, and the increase in the local post was made from December 1934 until May 1935. The cup is a permanent gift.

The V. F. W. had a splendid turn out of members to enter the Whiskerino-Clampers celebration parade, the drum and bugle corps, Canadian Kiltie band, all of Sacramento, besides representatives from all the posts.

Those making the trip from this city were, C. E. Bosworth, Omar Tonella, Major Leroy DeLaney, Cal Christiansen, Hewer Yemi, Max Weiss, and Carl Raymond and William Mitchell of Grass Valley.

WOMEN OFFENDERS OF LIQUOR LAW FINED

Edna Jones of Spring street, Nevada City and Rose Potter of the Golden Gate Rooming House in Grass Valley appeared before Judge Morehouse in Grass Valley this morning to answer to a charge of selling liquor without a state license. Both pleaded guilty and were fined $75 each.

Russell B. Farley of the state liquor enforcement department, Sheriff Tobiassen and an "undercover" man from the state board raided resorts in this district Friday night and the above arrests were made.

SWIM POOL TO OPEN TOMORROW

The municipal swimming pool has had a thorough cleaning, the dust accumulated during the early spring is all washed away and the pool is now being filled, ready for the opening tomorrow, Tuesday, afternoon at 1 o'clock. Addison Janes, life guard, arrived last evening from Berkeley and will be in charge of the pool this summer.

R. J. Bennetts, chairman of the park commission, has called a meeting of the commissioners for eight o'clock tomorrow (Tuesday) evening in the city hall. Several questions of importance regarding the operation of the municipal pool this summer are to be discussed. Addison Janes will confer with the commission.

The chimney of stone at the new community house is being rapidly completed and the SERA workers are now preparing to lay the cement on the broad porch that is being constructed on the northerly side of the building. The porch is so constructed that it will act as a sounding board for band concerts which it is anticipated will be given there during the summer.

1000 GIRLS EXPECTED LAKE VERA THIS SEASON

Over 1,000 girls are expected at the various camps at Lake Vera during this season. Misses Gladys Snyder and Gladys Bennyhoff of Oakland Camp Fire Girls and Miss M. Tideler of Berkeley were at Lake Vera over the week end making preparations for the Camp Fire groups.

Oakland schools do not close until June 21 and big activity at the camp will probably be deferred until after that date thought the Piedmont group will open earlier.

STUDENT BODY ELECTS OFFICERS

The results of the general student body election held this noon at the high school have been announced:

President, Walter Warnecke.
Vice-president, Ruth Curnow.
Treasurer, Pauline Rozynski.
Secretary, Gertrude Schreiber.

Only two of the offices were contested. Fabian Joyal ran for president and Philip Joyal for treasurer.

TWO ROOM CABIN BURNS

Fire of unknown origin occured in a two room house on the north bank of Deer Creek a few yards south of Pine street. The house, consisting of a shed and bedroom, both were destroyed all except the floor. Although the fire department responded promptly to the alarm, the small place was dry as tinder and burned quickly. The cabin belonged to Mrs. George Hunt and was occupied by Mr. Haymein, a miner-geologist, employed at the Empress mine. High school helped man the hose line. The quick arrival of the fire department prevented the fire from spreading to the trees and other dwellings in the vicinity. Later in the afternoon the fire flared up again and was again treated to a hosing.

WARRANT FOR RECKLESS DRIVER

A reckless driving charge will be preferred against Herbert Gibson for driving a car while intoxicated on the lawn of E. Schmidt Friday night. Mr. Schmidet called Night Officer Towle, who had the car, belonging to Dewey Huber, towed off the lawn, as Gibson was unable to drive it off.

Chief of Police G. W. Robson had issued a warrant for the arrest of Gibson, who was fined $25, by Judge Miles E. Coughlin this morning.

TRUCK CATCHES FIRE

The government mail truck of Omar Tonella caught fire from backfiring at the Narrow Gauge depot yesterday forenoon and an alarm was turned in to extinguish the fire. In the meantime two men on a truck from the Spanish mine who were present grabbed shovels and threw wet earth on the blaze putting it out and also causing some trouble with the ignition when Tonella tried to start his car. Nevertheless the quick action of the two men saved the truck from destruction, although the fire department responded at once.

Doctors For Fire Fighters

(Contributed)

In this problem, of course, the greatest difficulty is the moron who flips a careless cigarette, or trips blithely away from a camp fire without putting it out.

But at least one obstacle to effectual forest fire control in California will be removed this season unless present plans of the State Chamber of Commerce go suddenly awry. For the first time in history fire fighters will have expert medical and surgical service immediately available right on the battlefield.

The new California Forestry Medical Corps will be on the job.

It is to consist of leading physicians and surgeons of California offering their time and ability voluntarily, without cost to the patient of the Federal or State forestry departments.

The corps will have a chief medical officer, six regional medical officers, one officer for each county in which there is a forest fire hazard, and one for each community located immediately adjacent to fire areas.

Heretofore the fire fighter who was severely burned, or hurt by a falling tree has had recouse only to pitifully inadequate, inexpert first aid. He had sometimes to be carried over miles of mountain trail or through trackless woods before getting anything like proper emergency attention. Establishment of the California Forestry Medical Corps will obviate all this, thereby adding to the morale and effectiveness of flame-battling groups.

That problem, then, is admirably solved. But the chief difficulty, the cigarette-flipping, camp-fire-leaving moron will unquestionably be with us again shortly. It we can't solve him, we can at least let him know that so long as he retains his million-dollar habits he will be a distinctly unwelcome member of society.

EMPLOYMENT AGENCY FILLS COMMUNITY NEED

The Mother Lode Employment agency, established last week by Mrs. A. I. Harlow, is filling a long felt need. Several unemployed persons have found jobs through the agency, employers in both Nevada City and Grass Valley are using the phone to engage their help, and scores of unemployed men and women have registered there.

Mr. Weakley is promotion manager of station KROW in Oakland and has many times had Mrs. Conner's poems read of KROW.

Not long ago he planned a program of the poems which was given in two sections on successive days.

WEEKLY COMMENT

BY

Christian Andersen

Every columnist whose articles I have read has at some time written about dogs, Then, too, it is a fact that dogs are man's best friends and therefore interesting to a large proportion of readers. So, on my routes there are several dog friends and I am not denying that the friendship was started when perhaps I gave them a doughnut or something. You might consider this a bribe to gain a dogs friendship and maybe it is, but I cannot, in a busy day, take time to make friends with a ferocious dog by the older methods. So please pardon to wily measures. There are for instance the dogs at Joubert's. Poor Trutso recently met an untimely death by falling off the back end of a truck. She was eleven years old and a very lovely dog. She was friendly and gentle in her association with her friends both canine annd human. Her pals, Rusty, a pit bull, and Ritz, or as his master sometimes called him, Policeman, are left to mourn the death of their pal, Trutso. The bull is a ferocious fellow and will scare one half to death with his bluster and snort but he recognizes his friends quickly and is steadfast to those he likes. The Policeman is quieter and has more poise but at night any luckless prowler would find him a tough hombre if already the bull had not torn the hapless one to shreds. Farther up at Indian Valley at Soley's there is Toodie. She is a little dog with fine manners. She can do some very comical tricks which she does without being bribed. At Fournier's there are two collies, one young and vivacious, and the other older with quiet manners. These two only respond to bribery. At Sierra City in the Hames grocery there is Ginger. He looks disdainfully at any sweet meats offered but he is most friendly and considerate. Of course there are many others but these are the dog stars on my route.

Recently while in momentary conversation with a service station operator who has made a success of the business in a certain location, he was quizzed about the effect which might acrue to his business now that the NRA has been killed by the decision of the United States Supreme Court. He emphatically held it as his opinion that the NRA had been a definite benefit to his business and that he felt shaky about what might happen, if the price wars were unleashed again.

In this connection it is noted that several ads appeared in the metropolitan press by responsible and large business firms indicating that as near as possible they would try to adhere to the principles of NRA. All of which indicated that the NRA was by and large a benefit instead of, as some would have us believe, a detriment to business. My own personal experience has been that the business in which I am engaged was benefited. Let us hape that the administration finds a legal workable substitute for it.

Recently Erik who is in the fourth grade failed to properly work 42 multiplication problems and he brought them home as home work. He is rather average in mentality and does not yet understand that application brings wisdom. Therefore, the length of the work irked him. I staunchly stood by the teachers request and worked with him until late and then his mother helped him to finish the problems. My opinion is that the child should have been given less home work to do in this instance and then given the balance the next night. Application should be taught as part of the curriculum of the schools the same as history or any other study. It is my theory that too much work of the same kind at any one time dulls the enthusiasm of the student. After all it is only the theory which needs to be taught. The memorizing of certain problems does small good. This is directed at no person here or anywhere else but there obviously is room for progress even in our school system.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE IN "THE LITTLE COLONEL"

Love takes the acid test in "I" Love You Always," which plays at the Nevada Theatre tonight, with Nancy Carroll and George Murphy. Concerned with the trials and tribulations of a young married couple who try to make ends meet—when their means to an end are almost nothing, the story dramatizes a very definite, important problem of modern civilization.

Three supreme figures of screen, stage and vaudeville are brought together in Fox Film's "The Little Colonel," which comes to the Nevada Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, with a matinee at 2:15 Wednesday afternoon.

They are Shirley Temple, Lionel Barrymore, and Bill Robinson. Shirley Temple, the foremost child actress, can be counted among the miracles of movie history, and makes a great hit in "The Little Colonel", which is exactly suited to her talents. Co-starring with Shirley is Lionel Barrymore, easily the screen's leading character actor. Bill Robinson, of course has a niche for himself, as the originator of the inimitable star dance, which is the last word in tap dancing.

PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN EXAMINED AT CLINIC

A very successful clinic sponsored by the grammar school P. T. A. for examination of pre-school age children was held Wednesday at Washington Grammar School. County Health Nurse Isobel R. Haffelfinger, and assistants appreciated having the mothers come out. Mrs. Heffelfinger was assisted by Mrs. Robert Grant, Dr. B. W. Hummelt of Nevada City donated his services for the examination.

It was noted that quite a number of children have not been vacinnated against small pox, or inocluated for diptheria protection. The health nurse states it will be well for parents to think of their children in this regard and not defer protecting them against these diseases.

Often at these pre-school clinics discovery is made of the beginning of serious defects or illness in the little children which if cared for in time may be checked. One parent at Wednesday's clinic was advised that her child should have further examinations. If this is done and instructions followed the future health of this child will be greatly safeguarded.

$150 ON UNTAXED LIQUOR

Antonio Giani whose home on the southern limits of the city was raided Tuesday by state liquor enforcement officer, Russel B. Farley was brought before Judge W. L. Mobley who issued the search warrant. Giani pleaded guilty to the charge of possessing untaxed liquor and was fined $150. He paid $50 and was given thirty days in which to pay the balance.

The Lava Cap team showed up well making 11 hits, 8 runs and one error, while the Murchie team made 3 hits, 2 runs and 6 errors. Batteries were: Pisevick and Biggs, Barry, M. Wells and Dodson, Pisevick, Gibson, Biggs, Lee Holes were hard hitters for the Lava Cap. Perkins and Duke were the only Murchie batters to hit safely. The winners will probably play other mine teams in the Nevada City-Grass Valley area.
